Disconnected work.
A student journey that needs clarity.

THE PROBLEM

Recruitment teams rely on disconnected spreadsheets, messages, and manual updates to track student applications.

Student details, documents, follow-ups, and application progress sit across separate tools. Counsellors and agents have to piece together the latest information before they can take the next step.

Why it matters

When ownership and next steps are unclear, follow-ups slip, deadlines become harder to manage, and students wait longer for answers. Managers struggle to see where applications are blocked or where teams need support.

THE PRODUCT NEEDS TO ACHIEVE

One shared workspace that makes every student's status, owner, and next action clear.

User pain points

01 No reliable view of progress
Teams search across spreadsheets and conversations to find the latest application status.

02 Follow-ups depend on memory
Scattered reminders make it easy to miss a document request, deadline, or student update.

03 Handoffs lose context
Counsellors, agents, and finance teams repeat checks because history and ownership are unclear.

Business objectives

01 Centralize the student journey
Connect enquiries, applications, documents, and communication in one shared record.

02 Reduce delays and manual work
Surface urgent actions, assign ownership, and help teams resolve blockers sooner.

03 Make performance visible
Give managers a clear view of the pipeline, conversion, and branch and team performance.
